

Dear Music Lover,

I am proud to introduce the ultimate solutions for audio reproduction to India.

Our products are designed for the music loving connoisseur. Those who want to own the best audio-equipment money can buy, to enjoy music at home.

As home-theatre systems are designed to create special effects, and lifestyle systems to provide aural wall-paper, Audio Note systems are designed to reproduce music. They seamlessly blend audio into music with vivid and lively power.

Our products not only reproduce every sound present on a recording, but also its emotional content. To achieve this is hard, as many correlations between technology and experience are not well understood.

Our journey was started 30 year ago by Hiroyasu Kondo, aka 'The Audio Silversmith'. Born the second son of a Buddhist Priest, he was the first person to use silver wire in audio designs. An expensive metal which had never been used in an audio design before. But with this bold idea, and his reinvention of the single-ended valve amplifier, the sound character of Audio Note was created.

The products of Audio Note are made for and bond with the audiophile's heart.

Transcend technology fashion by choosing the finest aural experience money can buy... Welcome to the world of Audio Note.

Warmest Regards,
